

Beijing office, Mainland China

Lead Proposal Engineer

responsibility

- Support project technical assessment, provide basic technical data;
- Assist the Proposal Manager or independently in charge of the production of the proposal subject to the complexity and size of the project;
- Coordinate with other departments and support services to ensure all tasks are addressed under the right track;
- Drive the process, engineering and drafting teams to target the most competitive layout, technologies and process treatment lines; ensure timely production of all design deliverables required for the proposal;
- Evaluate the project cost together with the support of the Supply Chain Platform and the Execution Department;
- Ensure a smooth transfer to the Execution Team when a project is awarded.

requirement

- A good technical know-how or degree holder in the field of wastewater treatment, especially in industrial wastewater treatment, such as petrochemical & fine chemicals, metal industry, pharmaceutical, and electronic, etc.;
- Good knowledge about project budgeting, including cost components, process optimization, materials selection, key equipment supplier analysis and engineering estimation;
- Technical presentation and negotiation is a definite advantage;
- At least 8 years working experience in technical proposal, or engineering sections, experience in engineering consulting firm or design institute will be a plus.

contact

Interested party may send us your resume to lu.gan@suez.com .